

Invest in Success Program Details

Upcoming Program:

September 16-17

We want all FP&M employees to be the best they can be. To provide development opportunities for our non-supervisor staff, FP&M Leadership is bringing APPA's new Invest in Success training program to UW-Madison. The Invest in Success program will train front-line staff how to be effective and productive individuals and contributors to the team and institution, drive staff members to achieve success in their roles, and achieve the strategic goals of their institution. The program is designed to address the critical knowledge and skills all individual contributors need for success including communication, relationship building and problem solving. This is a full two-day training.
